My Services

Michael Keating is a self-employed agent of MB Planning Ltd, trading as Clear Financial, Work IQ, Innovation Quarter, Belgard Square North, Tallaght, Dublin D24.

As an insurance intermediary my principal business is to provide advice and arrange transactions on behalf of clients in relation to life insurance and pensions products. The range of services that I provide is based on the products offered by the product producers from whom a written letter of appointment is held by MB Planning Ltd. A list of those product producers is available on request.

Other Investment Business Services

In accordance with the Investment Intermediaries Act 1995, MB Planning Ltd take full and unconditional responsibility for any investment business services (including investment advice) provided by me, other than services relating to insurance products. Michael Keating is remunerated by commission for this business. MB Planning Ltd Terms of Business apply to any investment business services provided by me (other than insurance services). A copy of MB Planning Ltd trading as Clear Financials' Statement of Authorised Status is available on request.

Please note that Michael Keating offers advice on a limited analysis basis for certain investment products offered by investment firms regulated under the MiFID Regulations IIA Article 3 through my Clear Financial MB Planning Ltd agency. A list of these product providers is available on request.

Fair and Personal Analysis

The concept of fair and personal analysis describes the extent of the choice of products and providers offered by an intermediary within a particular category of life assurance, general insurance, mortgages, and/ or a specialist area. The number of contracts and providers considered must be sufficiently large to enable an intermediary to recommend a product that would be adequate to meet a client's needs.

The number of providers that constitutes 'sufficiently large' will vary depending on the number of providers operating in the market for a particular product or service and their relative importance in and share of that market. The extent of fair analysis must be such that could reasonably be expected of a professional conducting business, taking into account the accessibility of information and product placement to intermediaries and the cost of the search.

In order to ensure that the number of contracts and providers is sufficiently large to constitute a fair and personal analysis of the market, I will consider the following criteria:

- the needs of the customer,
- the size of the customer order,
- the number of providers in the market that deal with brokers,
- the market share of each of those providers,
- the number of relevant products available from each provider,
- the availability of information about the products,
- the quality of the product and service provided by the provider,
- cost, and
- any other relevant consideration.

A list of Product Providers is available on request. I am remunerated by commission for the advice I provide on our insurance-based investment products.

Investment Intermediary Services

Please note that I offer advice on a limited analysis basis for certain investment products offered by investment firms regulated under Mifid Regulations. A list of these product providers is available on request. I am remunerated by commission for our investment intermediary services.

Life & Pensions/Life Wrapped Investments

Michael Keating acts as a Broker which means that the principal regulated activities are provided on the basis of a fair and personal analysis on the market. Michael Keating provides life assurance, pensions, and investments on a fair and personal analysis basis, i.e. on the basis of a sufficiently large number of products and product producers available on the market through my agency with MB

Planning Limited trading as Clear Financial. This enables Michael Keating to make a recommendation, in accordance with professional criteria, regarding products that are appropriate to my clients' needs.

Michael Keating will provide assistance to you for any queries you may have in relation to any policies or investments that Michael Keating recommends or arranges for you or in the event of a claim during the life of the policy or investment and we will explain to you the various restrictions, conditions, and exclusions attached to your policy. However, it is your responsibility to read the policy/investment documents, literature, and brochures, including key features documents, and terms & conditions to ensure that you understand the nature of the policy cover, particularly in relation to PHI and serious illness policies.

Specifically, on the subject of permanent health insurance policies it is my policy to explain to you: a) the meaning of disability as defined in the policy; b) the benefits available under the policy; c) the general exclusions that apply to the policy; and d) the reductions applied to the benefit where there are disability payments from other sources. For a serious illness policy, I will explain clearly to you the restrictions, conditions and general exclusions that attach to that policy.

Any failure to disclose material information may invalidate a claim and render your policy void. You must inform and disclose any material information including any material changes that might take place between the time you complete an application form and the time you pay the first premium. To assist me in providing you with a comprehensive service and to keep my records up-to date as soon as possible, please notify me of any changes to your personal circumstances, e.g., name change, change of address, etc.

Sustainability Factors – Investment/IBIPs/Pension Advice

In accordance with the Sustainable Finance Disclosure Regulation (SFDR'), Michael Keating informs you that when providing advice on insurance-based investment products/Investments, I will assess, in addition to relevant financial risks, relevant sustainability risks as far as this information is available in relation to the products proposed/advised on. This means that I assess environmental, social or governance events/conditions that, if they occur, could have a material negative impact on the value of the investment.

Michael Keating integrates these risks into my advice in the following way: e.g. I review product provider literature in relation to sustainability risks; I liaise with the providers in relation to any queries in relation to the funds. This information is reviewed by Michael Keating on an ongoing basis.

Michael Keating takes due care so that the internal remuneration policy with respect to investment or insurance advice on insurance-based investment products ('IBIPs') promotes sound and effective risk management in relation to sustainability risks and does not encourage excessive risk-taking with respect to sustainability risks.

When assessing products, Michael Keating will consider the different approaches taken by product providers in terms of them integrating sustainability risks into their product offerings. This will form part of the analysis for choosing a product provider.

Considering Principal Adverse Impacts on sustainability factors in the advice:

When providing advice on insurance-based investment products ('IBIPs') or investment advice we assess the PAI information published by product manufacturers as follows:

The firm will examine the Product Providers' literature to establish the Principal Adverse Impacts for the relevant products. The firm will then compare financial products across available providers to make informed investment decisions about the suitability of ESG products for individual clients.

Michael Keating is remunerated by commission and other payments from product producers on completion of business. A summary of the details of all arrangements for any fee, commission other reward or remuneration paid or provided which have agreed with product providers is available in the office or on the website – www.clearfinancial.ie.

Further details may be included in the policy/investment documents issued by the product provider when your policy or investment is in force. Where we receive recurring commission, this forms part of the remuneration for the initial advice provided.

I wish to inform you that I receive ongoing remuneration from Product Providers in respect of the financial service provided to you. This remuneration is based on a percentage of the value of your investment, annual premiums, etc. and is intended to cover the ongoing service that I provide to you in relation to this product. The nature of the service for which this remuneration is payable includes e.g. regular reviews of your product, updates on performance, and continued access to my advice.

Clawback

If Michael Keating we receives commission from a product provider [and off-set the commission against the fee which Michael Keating would otherwise have charged you] but the commission is subsequently clawed-back by the provider because of early encashment by you or because of the transferring of the assets or business to another provider or in any circumstances consequent on your actions or omissions, Michael Keating will charge a fee to you that is equal to [100% of] the clawed-back commission. That fee will be owing in simple contract upon the claw- back of the commission.

Regular Reviews

It is in your best interests that you review, on a regular basis, the products which we have arranged for you. As your circumstances change, your needs will change, which may result in you having insufficient insurance cover and/or inappropriate investments. Average consumer as per Directive No. 2005/29/EC of the European Parliament and of the Council of 11 May 2005 is reasonably well informed and reasonably observant and circumspect, taking into account social, cultural and linguistic factors.

Specific questions will be asked. Where you do not provide additional information (after being requested to do so) it can be presumed that the information previously provided remains unchanged.

An insurer may repudiate liability or limit the amount paid on foot of the contract of insurance, only if it establishes that non-disclosure of material information was an effective cause of the insurer entering into the relevant contract of insurance and on the terms on which it did.

Completed proposal forms/statement of fact

New Business & Renewal

You may cancel a contract of insurance, by giving notice in writing to the insurer, within 14 working days after the date you were informed that the contract is concluded. This does not affect the notice periods already provided under European Union (Insurance and Reinsurance) Regulations 2015 (S.I. No. 485 of 2015) or the European Communities (Distance Marketing of Consumer Financial Services) Regulations 2004 (S.I. No. 853 of 2004) which is 30 days in respect of life policies, irrespective of whether the sale took place on a non-face to face basis, and 14 days in respect of general policies and only on sales that took place on a non-face to face basis (distance sales).

The consumer is under a duty to pay their premium within a reasonable time, or otherwise in accordance with the terms of the contract of insurance.

A court of competent jurisdiction can reduce the pay-out to the consumer where they are in breach of their duties under the Act, in proportion to the breach involved.

Michael Keating is regulated by the Central Bank of Ireland

Post-Contract Stage and Claims

An insurer may refuse a claim made by a consumer under a contract of insurance where there is a change in the risk insured, including as described in an “alteration of risk” clause, and the circumstances have so changed that it has effectively changed the risk to one which the insurer has not agreed to cover.

Any clause in a contract of insurance that refers to a “material change” will be interpreted as being a change that takes the risk outside what was in the reasonable contemplation of the contracting parties when the contract was concluded.

The consumer must cooperate with the insurer in an investigation of insured events including responding to reasonable requests for information in an honest and reasonably careful manner and must notify the insurer of the occurrence of an insured event in a reasonable time.

The consumer must notify the insurer of a claim within a reasonable time, or otherwise in accordance with the terms of the contract of insurance.

If the consumer becomes aware after a claim is made of information that would either support or prejudice the claim, they are under a duty to disclose it. (The insurer is under the same duty).

If the consumer makes a false or misleading claim in any material respect (and knows it to be false or misleading or consciously disregards whether it is) the insurer is entitled to refuse to pay and to terminate the contract.

When an insurer becomes aware that a consumer has made a fraudulent claim, they must notify the consumer advising that they are avoiding the contract of insurance. It will be treated as being terminated from the date of the submission of the fraudulent claim. The insurer may refuse all liability in respect of any claim made after the date of the fraudulent act, and the insurer is under no obligation to return any of the premiums paid under the contract.
